

June 3, 2009

Noranco Inc. is pleased to announce the appointment of David B. Camilleri as President, effective June 3, 2009.

David has served as Chief Operating Officer of Noranco since November 2008, and has been instrumental in advancing the organization's integration and operational improvement strategies.

He joined the Noranco organization from Cooper Standard Automotive, where he served for over 13 years, in a number of roles, including Manager of Manufacturing Engineering and Plant Manager. His final role within Cooper Standard was General Manager Operations, responsible for all aspects of four Canadian and U.S. manufacturing facilities, with 550 employees.

As President of Noranco, David has full responsibility over New Business Development, Operations, Finance, Quality Control and Human Resources, for all three divisions of the corporation. He will be reporting directly to Bernardo Sztabinski, Chief Executive Officer of Noranco.

David is a graduate of Business Administration from Wilfred Laurier University, and earned his MBA from Athabasca University.
